

TUMBES PARK

BIOSPHERE RESERVE

A PENINSULA FULL OF MAGIC.

It is known for being a unique socioecological project in the country, home to one of the last coastal evergreen forests in the Bio Bio region. It is also a space for conserving local biodiversity, serving as a refuge for native flora and fauna, and a green lung for Talcahuano.

HOW, WHEN AND FOR HOW MUCH.

Located at Playa Pingueral 150, Talcahuano, Bío Bío, this is a free-access park open from Monday to Sunday. You can enjoy the trails freely. In the image, you can see both an internal and external route. We recommend the internal route, where you can see both native and endemic flora. For more information, scan the QR within the image beside and follow the trail in the website.

GASTRONOMY AND CULTURAL RECREATION.

At the foot of Tumbes Park, we have access to a wide range of options at the Talcahuano market, where you'll find food trucks, typical Seashore dishes, and handicrafts. You can find dishes from $5 to $15 or less. You can also learn about an historical Chilean relic, "El Huáscar," a symbol of the chilean victory in a conflict with Perú, "La guerra del Pacífico" (Pacific War) an event that marked the culture and the history of the country.

EVERYONE IS WELCOME!

Ideal for families, children, seniors, and pets (on leashes), Tumbes Park features easy-to-navigate trails and spacious rest areas. easy walks and safe activities make it a comfortable and accessible destination for people of all ages. Remember not to rush others; maintain a calm pace respecting everyone's enjoyment, it's even a good option if you're looking to exercise.

THE WAY TO TUMBES PARK

From Concepción's O'Higgins Street, take bus 70I on the Las Bahías route, you will see it on its sign or if you're traveling by car, we recommend you searching for "Parque Tumbes" on Google Maps.

MORE FOR YOU TO KNOW

Tumbes Park doesn't have any infrastructure for people with reduced mobility, but you can walk the first 2-3 km in a wheelchair, given that there isn't a steep incline, we recommend taking the outside path on the previously shown route and always have in mind that there's only one bathroom at the entrance of the park.

SAFETY CONSIDERATIONS

If you want to enjoy the peninsula safely, consider the following tips: Wear outdoor footwear, carry at least a liter of water, and appropriate clothing. Remember to respect nature and understand the "Leave No Trace" principle. You can spend the whole day there if you like, but in winter, nightfall arrives at 6:00 PM, and it could become really dangerous
